

adira

Adira, a ClearVision proprietary brand, proudly announces the first expansion of the Adira collection, designed to cater to every facet and stage of all women's lives.

This release continues to weave common color and style themes through two of the brand's design stories, while introducing new materials.

The release includes the very first titanium frames within the Adira collection. These new airy-looking models feature delicate feminine cutouts along the temples, for strong but elegant designs. These frames also add to the already extensive size range within the Adira line by introducing new Petite Fit models as part of the Fresh Essentials story.
